CABLE NO. 79

TRANSCENDING BOUNDARIES

president

For the past century and a half, The Cooper Union has offered an undergraduate education of unparalleled excellence to all who qualify. The college has dissolved impediments to achievement and enabled students to transcend boundaries defined by gender, religion, race, ethnicity, and economic class.

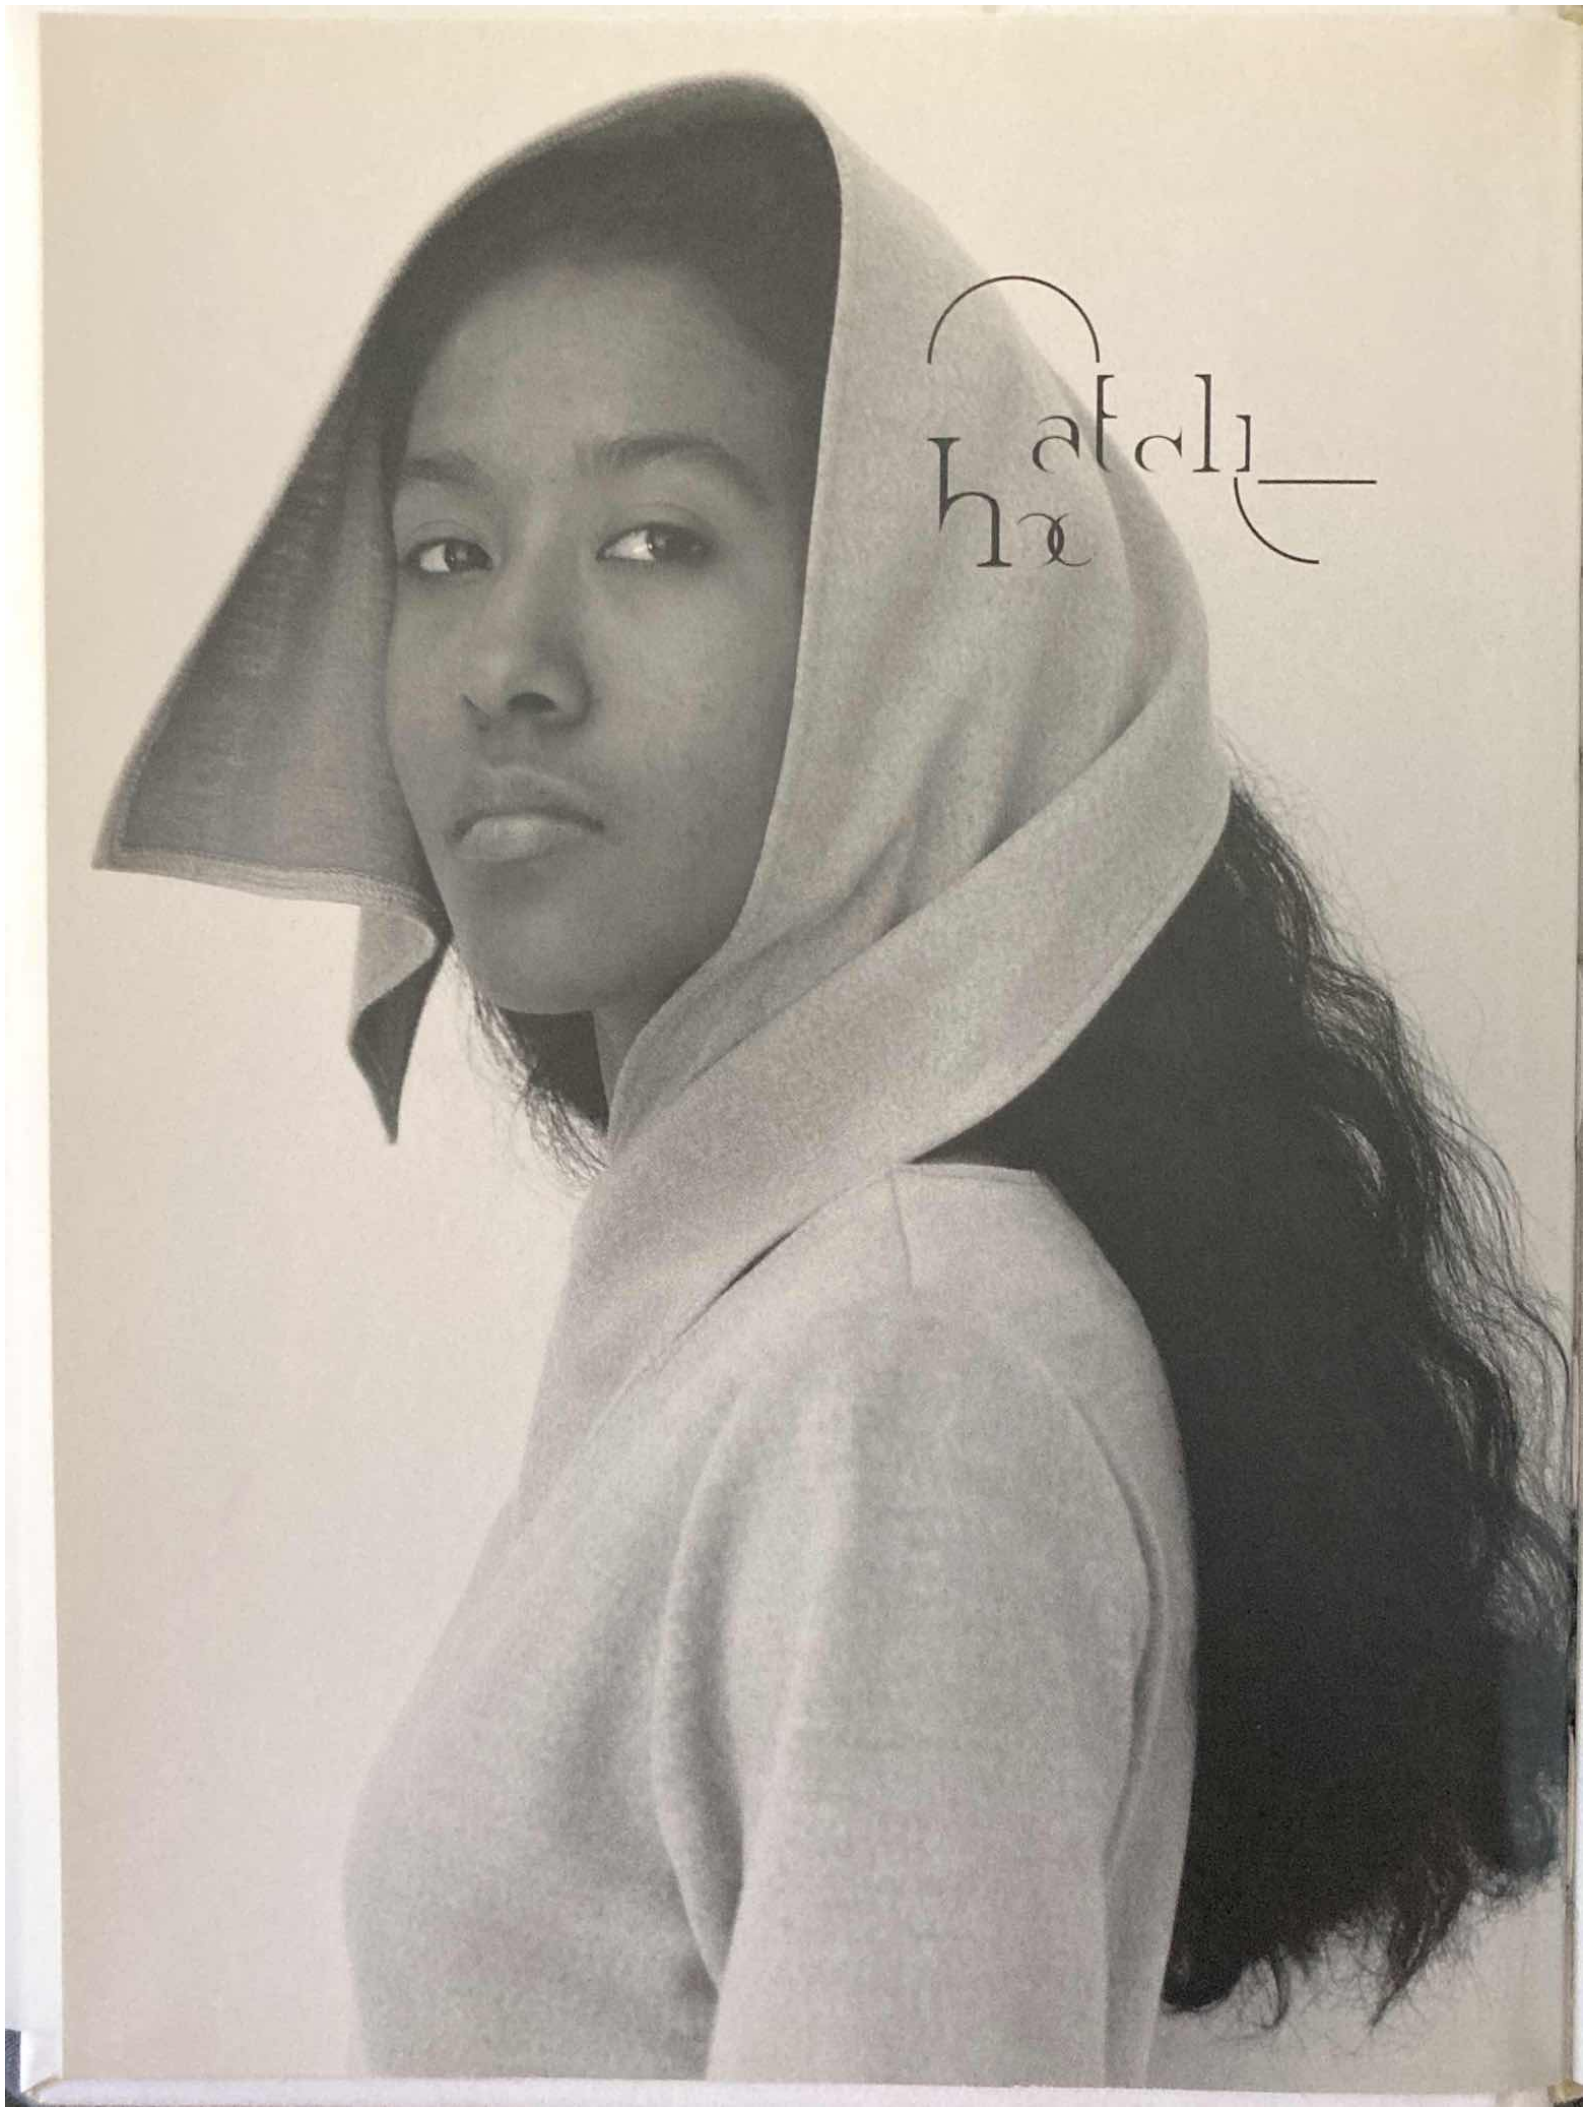

Our founder, Peter Cooper, sought also in this institution to nurture the synthesis of analytical thought and creative spirit, to transcend the boundaries between science and art. As we enter the 21st century, his vision has come to fruition on a grand scale. The confluence of science and art that's driving the Information Age, the Internet and a new world order has never been more important to our culture, our economy, our way of life.

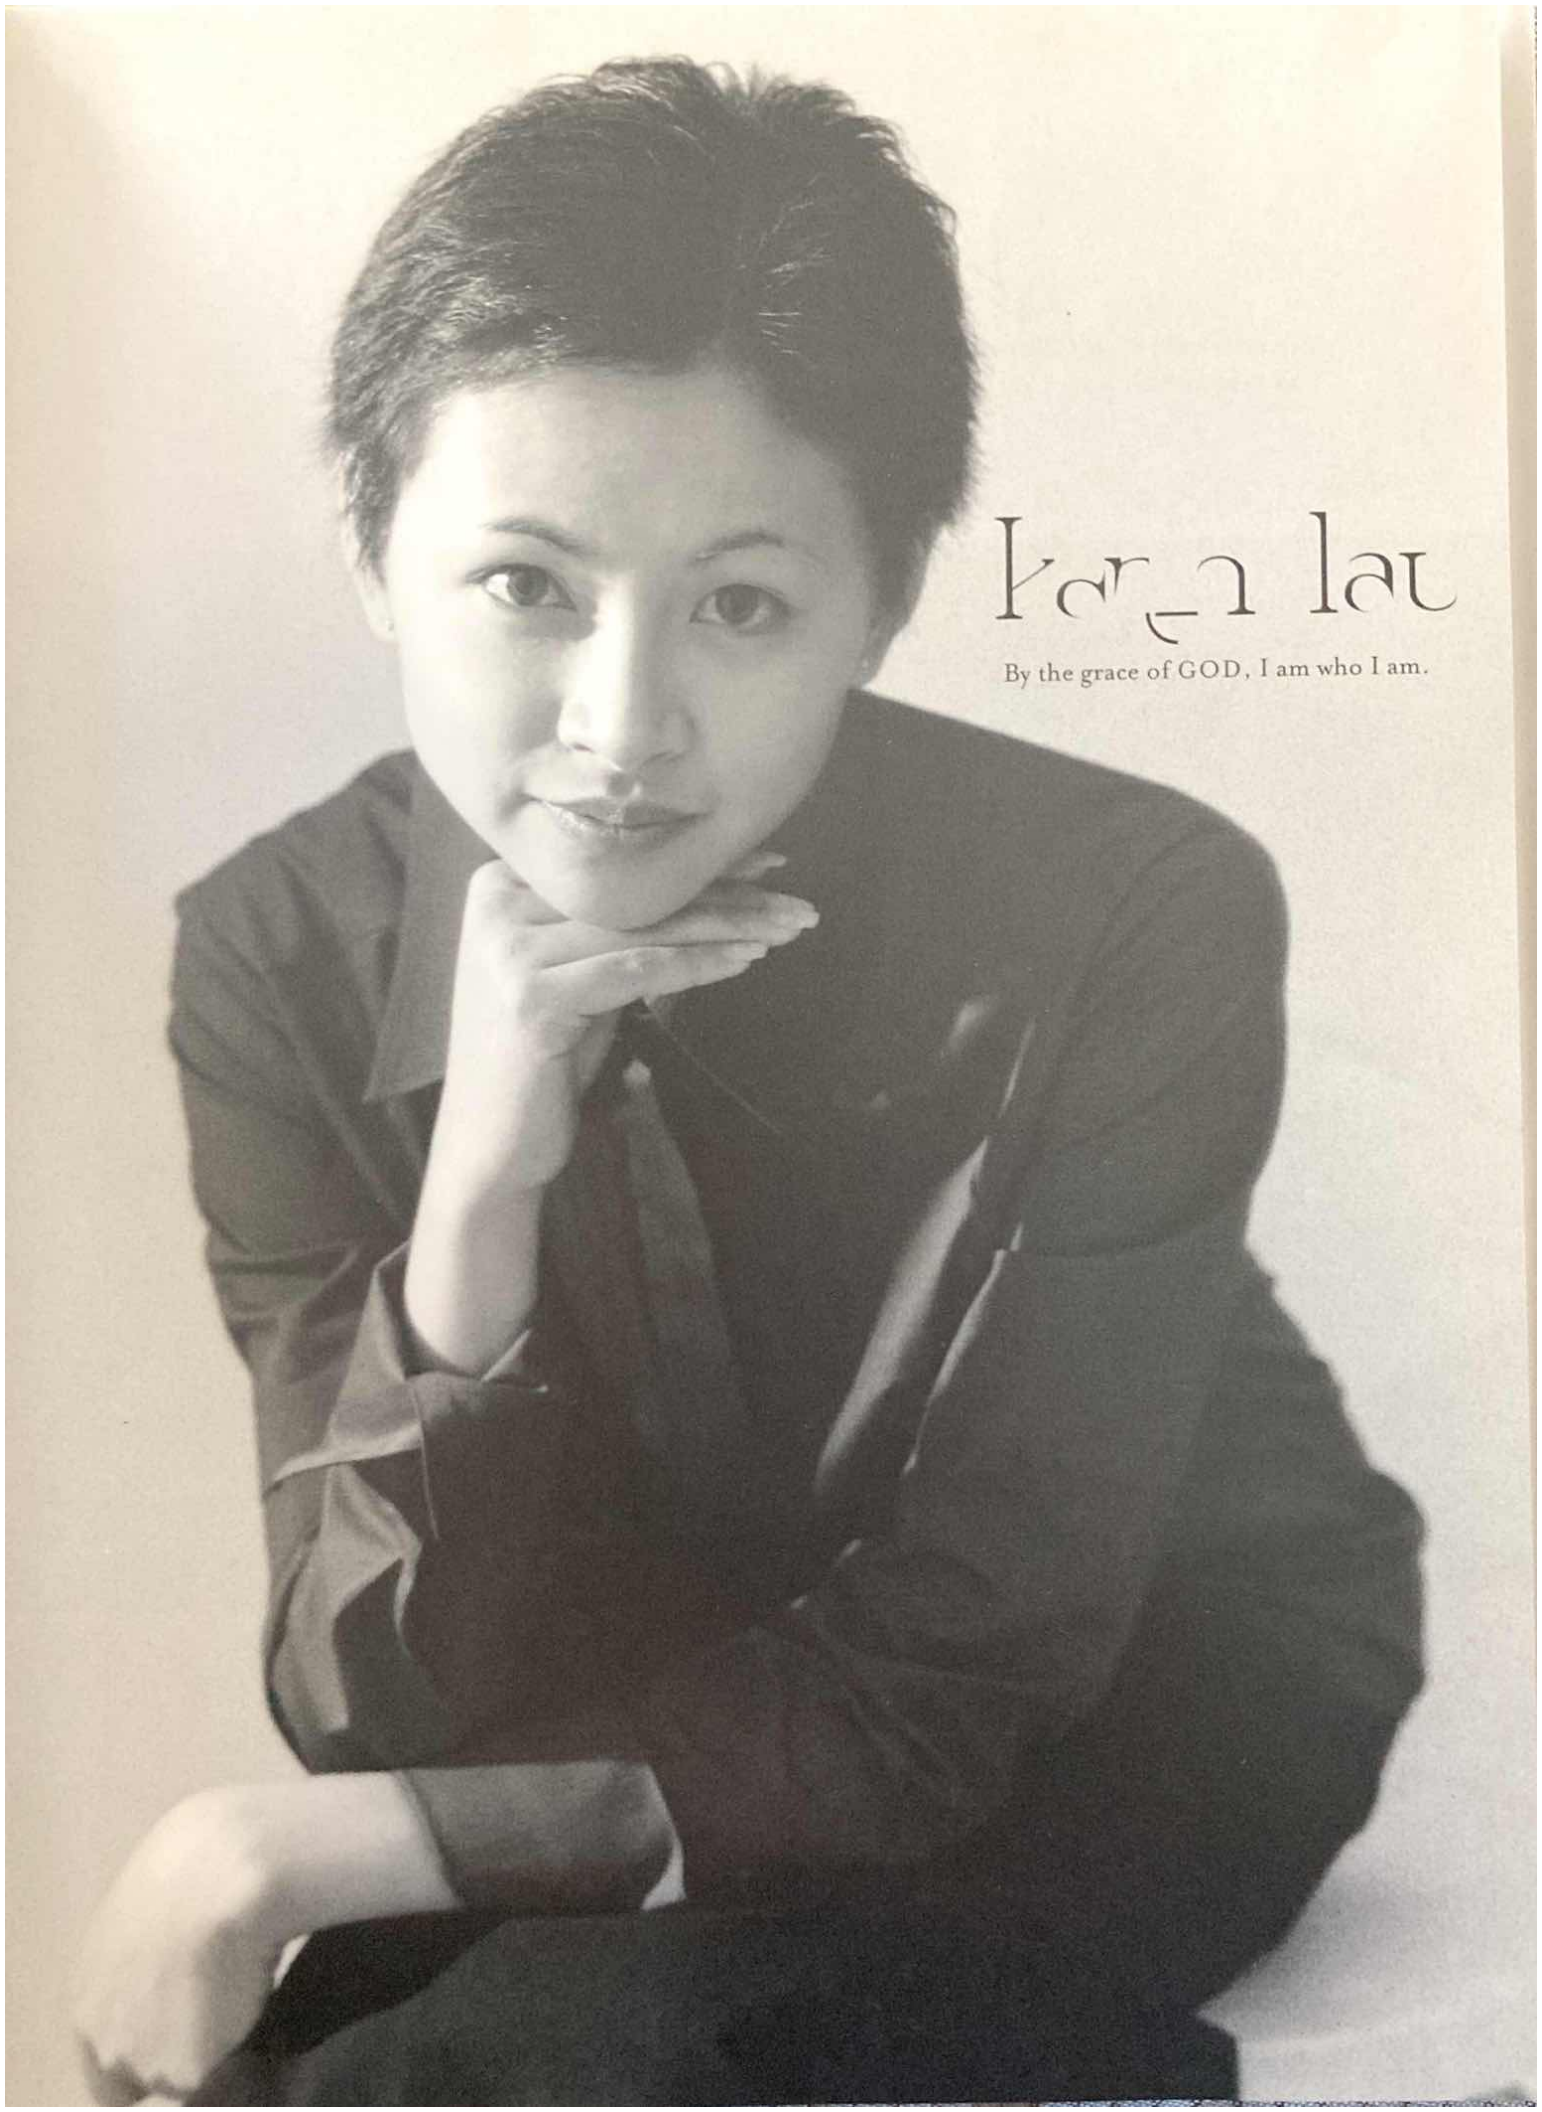

I congratulate you, the members of the Cooper Union graduating class of 2001, on earning a degree in one of the most important professions of our time from one of the most distinguished institutions of higher education in the world. You have been extraordinarily well prepared to assume the responsibility of leadership not only in your professions but in defining human culture and values as we cross a symbolic temporal boundary and begin the new millennium.

George Campbell Jr.

To some, education is preparing the young to educate themselves.
To others, education is not
a preparation for life;
Education is life itself.

—JOHN DEWEY

So how come education is never completed until a man dies?

HMMM!

For me, education is what survives when what has been learnt has been forgotten. Education is learning to express your ignorance in scientific terms. Above all, education is learning a lot about how little you know. So what becomes of your Education is totally up to YOU.

Anyone who stops learning is old, whether at 20 or 80. Anyone who keeps learning stays young.

How do I want to live my life? By not taking anymore orders.
Mutiny? I'd like to think of it as graduation.

I've gone through hell while going through Cooper, and I've come out knowing at least one thing: Don't feel sad, the world is made up of more than scrap iron cities. Memories and bitter feelings will pass, and remember to cultivate the mind, the spirit, and the soul—
we must always cultivate a soul.

Thank you, Steve, Siu Fan, Frank, James, Lee, Damee, professors who understood (especially Professor Hollenberg), and all those I've missed.
